

The background image shows the interior of the Crystal Palace, a large Victorian-era glass and iron structure. The foreground features a series of red brick arches supported by pillars, creating a perspective that leads into the distance. Above the arches, a complex network of red-painted steel beams supports a glass roof. The floor is made of light-colored stone tiles with some red decorative patterns. The overall atmosphere is one of historical grandeur and architectural detail.

ABOUT THE VENUES

The Concert Platform, Crystal Palace: An iconic South London venue.

Set in a natural amphitheatre with a rarely rivalled live music heritage, the Concert Platform has been brought back to life by the community-led 'Back The Bowl' campaign, and support from Crystal Palace Park Trust, Mayor of London, and Backstage Trust. You can read about the illustrious history of the venue by visiting www.crystalpalacebowl.com

Now is your chance to walk in the footsteps of legends and create lasting memories by hosting your event in this unique setting.

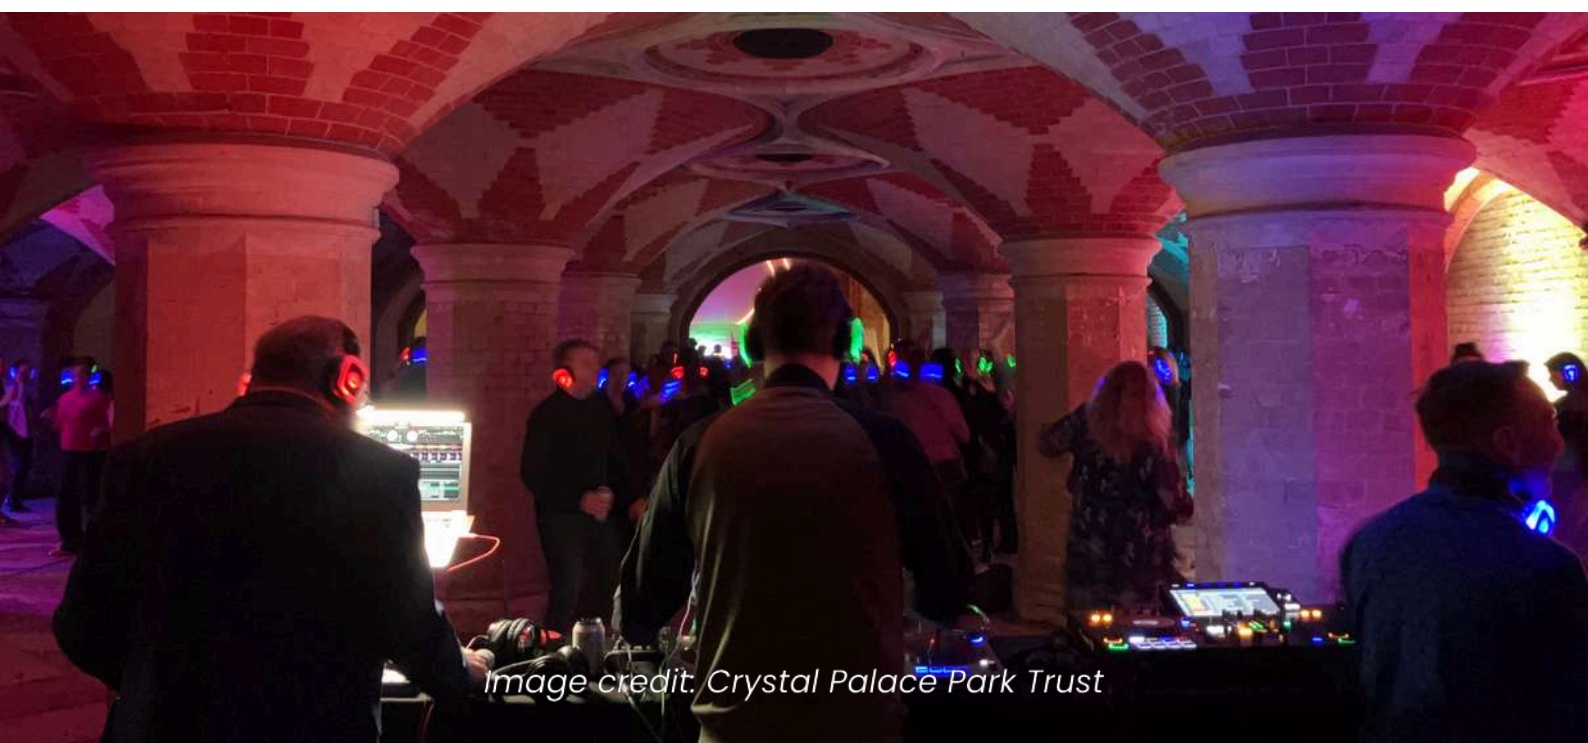

Crystal Palace Subway: A restored Victorian wonder.

Hiding beneath Crystal Palace Parade is an architectural marvel from the Victorian era. Originally the portal which welcomed first-class passengers from the now demolished High Level train station, the Subway has been restored with support from Bromley Council, and is ready to welcome a new generation of visitors.

Descend the stone staircase to a subterranean courtyard tiled with sculpted Portland limestone tiles and roofed with glass and metal, then wander through the curved arches of coloured brick and stone for the full historic experience. This unique venue can provide the grandeur and wonder for your next event in an unforgettable space.
